Amd Out of Your Bounty Assist the Poor---Many Are Suffering in Maysville

If you are of that class who doubt that we we in our midst those who are in actual want m interview Missionary Reed.

In his rounds yesterday that gentleman found my cases of want and woe-two that es stally appealed to the better side of humanity. One was a decrepit old woman dying in her wel in West Front street, alone and uncared r, another was a poverty-stricken family Shout food, fuel or a particle of furniture in as one room in which they huddled.

Now it is not a lack of the milk of human tindaess on the part of this Christian comservity that people are permitted to die of sauger, cold and neglect right in our midst without extending a helping hand, but rather a lack of knowledge of the condition as it really scists today amongst a certain class in our

Evangelist Read makes daily rounds in seeking out and looking up such cases as has been ciand above, and any charitable disposed person who wishes to aid and relieve the sorry plight of Chair less fortunate brothers and sisters in Magazille, will find this gentleman a valuable sid in directing your charity where it is really modfed and will do the most good.

See him and have a talk with him and he will enlighten you on the suffering that is now endured by many poor families who are deserving of your aid and sympathy.

R. A. M., tonight at 7 o'clock. Conference of Royal Arch Degree. All members urged to be A. D. COLE, H. P. Gordon Sulser, Secretary.

Captain Robert Corben of Ripley Ferry Violates Law

United States Local Inspectors of Steam Vessels Dameron and Fearn have suspended the license of Captain Robert Corben of the ferryboat Proctor K. Smiley at Ripley for 30 days for having an unlicensed pilot in the pilot house.

A rather unusual situation is presented and the Inspectors were slow to act. The naviga tion laws require that a vessel the size of the Smiley and employed as she is need have only two licensed officers—an engineer and a pilot.

Both of these men were aboard at the time but Captain Corben, the pilot, was employing his time collecting fares while he sent the engineer to pilot the boat. The engineer had no license to act in that capacity, and therefore Corben, the owner of the boat, has been sus-

The case will be reported to Surveyor of Port Armor Smith, who, if he finds Captain Corben guilty as charged, must assess a fine of $100 in addition to the other punishment. The Inspectors have no authority to assess fines.
